A MINISTER'S MARRIAGE.—Rev. Mr. Eastman, a clergyman who has charge of the interests of the Episcopal church in Tombstone, and vicinity, returned a few days ago from a visit in Canada, accompanied by his newly wedded wife. Cupid works in a quiet manner, but his influence is universal and though the minister may have had some intimation of his fate before going east, his congregation did not and was therefore somewhat surprised. But they were easily reconciled as the bride is said to be a most estimable woman and is heartily welcomed in her new home.

A SUMMER RESIDENCE.—P. W. Butler has returned from Santa Monica, where he has been for a few weeks enjoying cool breezes and a severe attack of rheumatism. As soon as he recovers sufficiently to begin to enjoy his summer season of pleasure and rheumatism—he will go back again. A RAILROAD BICYCLE.—A joint bicycle firm has on exhibition a railroad bicycle attachment, which is an object of much attention. It consists of a small flanged wheel, with rods running from it to the bicycle frame. The bicycle wheels run upon one rail and the small wheel upon the other, the rods being rigid enough to hold the bicycle in place and the bicycle leaning inward just enough to bear without weight to hold the small wheel on the rail. It is said that a speed of from fifteen to twenty-five miles per hour may be easily maintained.

CAMP MEETING.—The annual camp meeting of the M. E. church South will commence August 16, at Albright camp ground. The members of this church are expecting the best meeting this year they have ever had, as the ground is in better condition and extensive improvements are being made. A good camping place will be furnished for all who camp, with good water and electric lights. Dr. Lowrey of Texas, who has a national reputation as an evangelist, will do the greater part of the preaching. Dr. R. P. Wilson, editor of the Methodist Advocate, published at San Francisco, will also be present. People of all denominations are invited to come and camp.

AFTER LAR.—Dr. O. E. Plath, George Humm & L. Easterling and John Alsap will leave this morning for the Mogon mountains for the purpose of killing what bear and mountain lions there are left sufficiently matured for harvesting. Numerous parties of amateur nimrods have been through that section earlier in the season, but it is believed they only picked up the stragglers in the game region. This party proposes to surround and tackle the main herd. When the bear are surrounded the doctor proposes to administer chloroform, after which Alsap will shoot them, painlessly, into the hereafter. Barber Humm will skin them and Easterling will embalm the carcasses for shipment home to the local butchers. The length of their trip will depend on the game supply, as they expect to get it all. They are also armed with a supply of fishing tackle, as it is reported that owing to the scarcity of water in the upper streams the trout have all taken to the brush.

CHEER IN THE SOFT DRINK

How a Wink Well Placed May Produce Joy.

An unobservant visitor to a soda water fountain in Phoenix will hardly think, unless he has knowledge from outside sources, that all drinks sold at these dispensaries are soft drinks.

He may notice that there are sodas plain and sodas creamy, phosphates sweet and phosphates sour, sunaues and lemonades, but not be aware that drinks which cheer to a greater extent than these are obtainable there. Therein he has a chance to widen his supply of wisdom and taste of the joy that general belief attributes a characteristic peculiar to the region behind the screened door of the cafe.

By the exercise of a wink or a quiet admonition in the genius who conceals the refreshment he may get a claret punch or a sherry dip, possibly a Rhine wine and seltzer, or mayhap a whiskey fix or a highball. And possibly he may not. Discretion is a useful article when properly applied, and where Uncle Sam's internal revenue department may be concerned, its value is doubtful.

All places where soda is sold do not handle the side line, but many of them are willing to play a good Samaritan part or aid the W. O. T. in its efforts to keep in a out of saloons.

This practice is far from being a peculiarity in Phoenix. In practically every city it is a common evil and only occasionally do the authorities pay any attention to it. In the large places the soda men pay a regular retail liquor license, but rarely is the smaller dealer called upon to act that part.

Hard drinks, however, are not the only novelties at the soda fountains. A drugist was asked yesterday when a man walked in and asked for a "buttermilk lemonade." The soda water man reluctantly acknowledged that he had never heard of such a thing and under the directions of the customer made a lemonade, using buttermilk in it instead of water. After shudderingly passing it out to the stranger, the proprietor looked up the numbers of the police station and the hospital in the telephone book, as if to keep no time, and placed himself where he could watch the working of the deadly mixture. But it went down with a relish and stayed down at any rate for the two blocks that the customer stayed in sight. It is unquestionably a new sensation and for those in search of a new sensation may prove to be quite the thing.

CONGRESS OF CLIMBERS.
Paris, Aug. 10.—Of the many congresses that have been held in Paris since the opening of the exposition, probably the most unique is the international congress of Mountain Climbers which will begin its session tomorrow and continue for three days. There are already several scores of men and women who find their chief pleasure and pastime in scaling apparently inaccessible heights and gazing down at frightful depths. Personal experiences will be related by those who have climbed the Matterhorn, Mount Hood, the Jungfrau and by those who have ascended to the summits of the highest peaks of the Himalayas and the Andes. Among the Americans registered among the delegates to the congress is one woman, Miss Annie Peck of Boston, who recently climbed to the summit of the Matterhorn.
